James A. Donahue, President and Chief Executive Officer, stated, "According to data reported by SEMI, orders and book-to-bill ratios for the semiconductor test and assembly industry improved in April and May. Orders for our thermal test handlers remain strong and we've seen an increase in demand for general purpose pick and place systems."

Donahue commented further, "We had previously reported our expectation that revenue from our $8.5 million contract with the United Arab Emirates Armed Forces would be recognized in the second quarter. We now expect this revenue to be recognized in the third quarter. Our equipment is performing well and we remain optimistic about additional opportunities for this technology."

Certain matters discussed in this release, including statements concerning expectations of industry conditions, Cohu's 2005 operations and its contract with the United Arab Emirates, are forward-looking statements that are subject to risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those projected or forecasted. Such risks and uncertainties include, but are not limited to, the concentration of our revenues in a limited number of customers; intense competition in the semiconductor test handler industry; inventory write-offs; failure to obtain customer acceptance and recognize revenue; the cyclical and unpredictable nature of capital expenditures by semiconductor manufacturers; Cohu's ability to convert new products under development into production on a timely basis, support product development and meet customer delivery and acceptance requirements for next generation equipment; difficulties in integrating acquisitions and new technologies and other risks addressed in Cohu's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission including the most recently filed Form 10-K and Form 10-Q. Cohu assumes no obligation to update the information in this release.
